

WAYS TO DO READING:

- Text-to-speech software– both free and fee which will read the text.
- choose one that can make MP3M
!?
- Possible programmes VoiceOver for OS X , Jaws for Windows and IVONA. There are also others available just search under text-to-speech.

- If you prefer to read one solution to help with tracking the sentence is Beeline Reader

<http://www.beelinereader.com/>

TAKING NOTES IN CLASS:

OneNote

Digital note taking: Onote

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cOeOqR2KvCs>

Physical note taking techniques:

- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1RSpzczrejQ>
- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FG6nAQIb1YM>

Ask and record lecture

••Remember that your notes in class are just the first step, you will need to look at them again.

Reviewing your writing.

- Use the Student Learning Centre.
- BeeLine can help you read and the colour differences can help to show sentence structure problems.
- Use grammar checkers but be careful as they are not always correct.
- Read your work out loud or ask someone else to read it to you.
- Get someone you trust to read your work.
- Use text-to-speech to listen to your writing.
- Make sure you have answered all parts of the question.

THINK CLOUD!!

- protect your work.
- Make sure you use a cloud to back up your work. Computers can crash, back-up sticks get lost. You work hard so keep your work safe.

Dyslexic
&
Collective

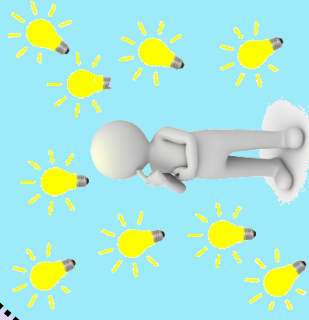

The Dyslexic collective is a group of 4 adults (with dyslexia) and an anthropologist who create material supporting dyslexic ways of Being.

Contact Person:
Ruth Gibbons
Email: thedyslexiccollective@gmail.com

Other completely unrelated things you've thought of.....

And then there is all of this.....

What immediately springs to mind is.....

Assignment
Question

Possibilities planner

Once you have all of your possible ideas look for the ones that you feel you know the most about and highlight them in one colour and then the ones you think are next and then the last ones. Choose what is relevant to the question and either rewrite or show your planner to your tutor to ask if you are on the right track.

thedyslexiccollective@gmail.com